WILSON TAKES SUCKER STATE

Illinois Goes with the General Landslide.

CALIFORNIA ALSO GOES SAME WAY

Such Are the Indications This Afternoon.

Each Succeeding Report Shows That the Landslide to Democracy Is Even More Pronounced Than at First Supposed—New Jersey Governor Shows Strength in States Supposed To Be Impregnable.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—With 600 precincts still to hear from at 6 o'clock this morning, indications were that Woodrow Wilson had swung Illinois into the Democratic column. The returns, at that time, indicated a plurality of 1,500 for the Princeton man. The returns, latest received, cut the lead of Roosevelt, and Democratic leaders believed the precincts still to hear from will favor their candidate.

The princincts still outstanding are scattered in various parts of the state and in most of them the vote is usually light. The Progressive leaders believe the vote from them will not favor either candidate materially, and they expect the result to be very close when the count is complete.

Elected After Hot Fight.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—After a fight so spectacular that it almost overshadowed the presidential race in Cook county, complete returns today show that Peter Bartzen was defeated for president of the board of county commissioners, while A. A. McCormick has been elected to succeed him and has been elected a member of the board by a slight plurality. Bartzen was also elected to the board.

A contest against McComick, on the ground of eligibility, is planned Bartzen and his friends. For the last few days before the election Chicago newspapers, devoted more space to the Bartzen-McCormick fight than any other one feature of the political situation.

Moose Losing Out.

Los Angeles, Nov. 7.—With nearly 1,700 precincts to be heard from Governor Wilson, at 6 o'clock today, was leading Roosevelt by 4,500 votes and gave indications that he will carry California by a majority of 7,500.

The Progressive leaders have not given up hope of carrying the state. They point out that the precincts to be heard from are regarded as Roosevelt precincts. They said that Roosevelt would more than overcome the Wilson figures by gaining three and one-half votes a precinct.

Should he carry California by the estimated majority over Roosevelt of 7,500 votes, President-elect Wilson will win the state over to the Democrats for the fifth time in its history, since the raising of the Bear flag in 1846.

Pennsylvania Returns.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 7.—Returns received from 5,191 election districts out of 6,053 in Pennsylvania give Theodore Roosevelt a plurality of 30,703 over Governor Woodrow Wilson. The missing districts are expected to slightly increase his plurality. The vote of the leading candidates as computed from the returns received was:

Roosevelt 395,028; Wilson 364,325; Taft 259,344.

Taft carried Philadelphia by 10,750. Outside that city, the president ran third. The returns for the Socialist candidate have not been sert out in detail, but there is enough information to show that hundreds of votes that Eugene V. Debs was expecting went to Roosevelt. Wilson also lost some Democrats to Roosevelt and the colonel picked up some Prohibitionists.

Robert K. Young, for state treasurer, A. W. Powell, for auditor general, and John M. Morin, F. E. Lewis, A. H Walters and A. R. Rupley for congressmen at large, are easy winners.

Democratic In Michigan.

Detroit, Nov. 7.—With many outlying districts yet to be heard from, latest figures indicate that, while Roosevelt carried the state by approximately 35,000, the entire Democratic state ticket will be elected, with a few exceptions.

Woodbridge N. Ferris, Democrat, for governor, has an estimated plurality of 15,000 over Amos Musselman Republican, and L. Whitney Watkins, Progressive.

William Alden Smith probably will be returned to the United States senate, a combination of Democrats and Progressives in the legislature assuming his re-election improbable.

At present, the legislature, with many districts not yet reported, but indicating Democratic successes, is as follows:

Senate—Republicans thirteen; Democrats five; Progressives three; doubtful eleven.

House—Republicans thirty-one; Democrats thirty-five; Progressives eight; doubtful thirty-five.

In Detroit, the Republican ticket was successful, electing Oscar N Marx over William B. Thompson, Democrat, for mayor, and twenty-seven of the thirty-six city aldermen, with other city officials.

New Hampshire Democratic.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 7.—Revised returns from the state congressional districts today show that the New Hampshire legislature will be Democratic, thus assuring the election of a Democratic senator.

New Hampshire will send two Democratic congressmen to Washington, E. Reed, of Manchester, and Raymond B. Stevens, of Langaff.

With Claremont missing, the vote of the state was, for president: Wilson 34,387; Taft 32,539; Roosevelt 17,542.

For governor: Felker, Democrat 32,518; Worcester, Republican, 31,654; Churchill, Progressive, 13,920.

Cannon Defeated.

Turk Government Can't Hold Out Much Longer.

POWERS OF EUROPE PREPARE FOR PEACE

Official Reports Declare That Salonika Is Taken.

Dispatches from Balkan Points State That a Great Massacre of Christians Is Imminent—Tales of Horrible Cruelties to Women, Children and Old Men Are Told—Sultan Reported To Have Fled.

Vienna, Nov. 7.—The complete overthrow of Turkish power in Europe is at hand. Czar Ferdinand's Bulgarian army, in three columns, is understood to be making a general assault upon the Chatalja forts, guarding Constantinople today.

Sultan Mohammed is reported to have fled from his palace in Constantinople last night and taken refuge on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorus.

A Greek and a Servian army marched upon Salonika, the most important port in European Turkey, and official reports say the city has been occupied.

Dispatches from Balkan points tell of terrible cruelties prepetrated upon defenceless men, women and children by fugitive Kurds and fleeing Turkish soldiers. Hundreds are being slain daily.

In Constantinople, and throughout Asiatic Turkey, the situation is dangerously acute.

A great massacre, which will drench the Asiatic portion of the Turkish empire in Christian blood, is imminent.

Appeals for Aid.

Christians and foreigners in Constantinople and other Turkish centers are sendng out agonizing appeals for aid. Foreign warships are gathering in Turkish waters and a great international army of marines will be landed at Constantinople.

Outbreaks of fanatical Moslems have taken place in the interior and the cities are full of refugees. But the Turkish cities offer less security than the isolation of the interor, for they are full of Turkish soldiers who are on the point of mutiny.

It is not believed the Turkish government can hold out many days longer. All the powers of Europe are speedily preparing for peace. It may prove necessary, however, for a group of European powers to take the reins of government at Constantinople until prevailing chaos and anarchy throughout the empre can be put down.

Awful scenes of carnage are reported from Rodosto, a Turkish port on the sea of Marmora. After the rout of the Turkish army, the Ottoman soldiers ransacked the city It was partially destroyed by fire. The Turks allowed their hatred against the Christians to flow unchecked. Dispatches say that Turks tossed bound women and children and helpless old men into the flames.

Wilson Carries Iowa.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 7.—Complete unofficial returns today show that Woodrow Wilson carried the state by 15,981.

OHIO RETURNS NOW COMPLTE

Wilson Carries State by Vote of 446,760.

PRESIDENT TAFT IN SECOND PLACE

Republicans Elect but Three Congressmen.

The Complexion of the Next Ohio Legislature, in Both Branches, Will Be of a Decidedly Democratic Cast—Tables Are Prepared, Showing the Successful Candidates for House and Senate.

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—Complete unofficial returns for Ohio give Wilson 446,760; Taft 312,600; Roosevelt, 253,564; Debs 46,000. In the legislature the senate will have twenty-four Democrats and nine Republicans and in the house eighty-six Democrats and forty-two Republicans Taft polled 572,312 in 1908 and Bryan 502,721.

Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan ran next to Cox on the Democratic state ticket. State Auditor E. M. Fullington ran far in the lead on the Republican state ticket.

Counting the congressman-at-large, Robert M. Crosser, the Democrats have elected nineteen congressmen out of twenty-two.

The Republican congressmen elected are Dr. S. D. Fess, Sixth district; R. W. Hughey, Seventh district, and Frank B. Willis, Eighth district.

Democratic State Chairman Finley claimed today that the plurality for Cox may go as high as 200,000 while the Republicans refused to concede the victors more than 125,000 on Cox and 100,000 on Wilson.

Returns coming in today from the farming districts only tend to swell the Democratic plurality and show that Wilson was much stronger with the farmers than his managers had anticipated.

PLANS TO TAKE SHORT VACATION

Wilson and His Wife Will Go to Bermuda.

HE WILL SPEND THREE WEEKS IN RESTING UP

Before Returning to the Grind of His Work.

Immediately Upon His Return, the President-Elect Will Busy Himself Putting Through Reforms He Promises to People of New Jersey. Will Then Wind Up Affairs Preparatory To Becoming President.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—In order to secure a complete rest before closing up his private affairs and busying himself with the selection of his cabinet as president, Woodrow Wilson, accompanied by his wife, will sail, in a private yacht, November 16, for Bermuda. Two weeks will be spent on the island and another week on the water.

Immediately upon his return, Woodrow Wilson, president-elect, will busy himself putting through the reforms he promised the people of New Jersey. The new legislature, which takes office January 1 will be Democratic and Governor Wilson is assured that all the progressive legislation and reforms promised will be rushed through.

A discussion with Democratic leaders throughout the state will be held and the nature and character of bills most beneficial to New Jersey will be decided upon One of them will give the governor power to interfere where corruption is apparent, and the corporation laws will be amended to conform with the federal statutes. Another reform will be a bill that will make three-fourths of the legislative vote necessary to repass a bill over the governor's veto instead of permitting it to repass by the same vote given it in the original passage.

Governor Wilson will hold his office until January, when the president of the Democratic senate will succeed him. If he were to resign now, a Republican would become governor.

Will Hear All Sides.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—Woodrow Wilson is going to enter the office of president of the United States with an open mind. He said so himself today, when he announced that he believed his course now in both state and national affairs should be to hear all the people on both sides of every question before making any statement. After correspondents had asked Mr. Wilson a number of questions today about proposed legislation he said:

"I think my right course now is to hear everybody and that I should not make any statement until every side of the various questions has been presented."

Regarding state legislation the governor said:

"The state platform of this election presents an extensive program. I shall get together with the state leaders and then speak for them as well as for myself."

The governor had just completed a nine hours' sleep and was going through a waste paper basket filled with mail and telegrams.

"One advantage of being elected president," Wilson said, "is that people will now get my first name right. My first name has been given every possible form that imagination can originate. The people seem to have gotten it right this morning."

It was suggested that the opening and reading of all this mail would involve a lot of work.

Can Recognize Typewriting.

"The strange thing is that I can recognize the typewriting of some of my friends," said the governor, as he went rapidly through the letters, reading merely the address.

"I don't know how I do it."

The governor said he had a splendid night's rest. "Most of the men who have been engaged in the campaign are doing some heavy sleeping these days," Wilson added.

Among the congratulatory telegrams that came this morning were good wishes from William McCalmont Wilson of Franklin, Pa.; W. L. Morrissey, secretary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who assured him "hearty support throughout the administration."

President Barcelona, of San Juan, Porto Rico, cabled:

"Hearty congratulations to standard bearer of Democratic principles in America. Union party fully confident justice at hands of party that always stood for their rights in congress.'

Adlai E. Stevenson, former vice president, said: "The entire country rejoices in your victory."

Edward F. Dunne, governor-elect of Illinois, wired, "Your election means the triumph of progressive Democracy. The governor-elect congratulates the president-elect of the United States."

Booth Tarkington, the author, also wired his congratulations.

HOW THE ELECTIONS OF GOVERNORS WENT

Washington, Nov. 7.—Twenty-nine states elected governors. The parties divided as follows: Democrats, eighteen; Republicans, nine; Fusionist, one; Republican and Progressive, one.

DENIES SHE TRIES TO POISON CHILD

Confessed Slayer of Women Says the New Charge Is False.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Pansy Lesh, who confessed to poisoning two women, today denied the new charge brought against her, to the effect that she attempted to poison the infant son of Paul Bauer, a prominent man of St. Louis. The charge was made by the St. Louis police. An officer is now on the way here to take the woman in custody.

"I am guilty of poisoning two women," sobbed Mrs. Lesh, whose wonderful fortitude has seldom been broken, "but I swear that I never attempted to poison the child. It is true that I was accused of the crime, but I was freed."

WRECK IS DUE TO A POOR ROADBED

Commission Reports on Disaster on Road in Illinois.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The accident on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad near Antioch, Illinois, August 25, in which one passenger was killed and twenty-five injured, was due to the bad condition of the roadbed, according to a report made to the Interstate Commerce commission today by H K. Belknap, chief of the safety appliance division.

Johnson Case Resumed.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Federal inquiry into the affairs of Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, were resumed today. The grand jury investigation was expected to end today and true bills—should any be returned—it was expected, would be voted before night.

STEAMER GOES ASHORE IN FOG

Royal George Stranded on the Rocks in St. Lawrence.

901 PASSENGERS ARE REMOVED IN SAFETY

It Is Possible That Ship Will Be a Complete Loss.

The Royal George, on Her Last Trip for the Season, Crashes onto the Rocks While Running at Nearly Full Speed During Rough Weather. Feared She May Topple Over at Next Low Tide.

Quebec, Que., Nov. 7.—Four hundred and twenty of the 901 passengers on board the Canadian Northern royal mail steamer, Royal George, which went ashore on the rocks in a heavy fog last night in the St. Lawrence river, ten miles from this city, were taken off early today and at 10 o'clock the remaining 481 were taken off, owing to the dangerous position of the stranded vessel.

The Royal George, which was bound from Bristol to Quebec, will probably be a total loss. Wrecking steamers, ferry boats and tugs were pressed into service as rescue ships and stood by the Royal George all night.

The scene of the accident is on the north side of the south channel near the island of Orleans

The Royal George left Grosse Isle quarantine station shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Quebec. Despite the roughness of the weather, a wireless report of the accident said the vessel was travelling at nearly full speed when she crashed upon the rocks. The present trip was to have been the last of the Royal George.

A wireless received from the scene at 10 o'clock said the position of the ship had become dangerous and fears were felt that she will topple over at low tide. The vessel is fifty feet high from the keel up.

HOOSIER WRITER IS ON HIS HONEYMOON

Newton Booth Tarkington Is Married To a Dayton Woman.

Dayton, O., Nov. 7.—Newton Booth Tarkington, the Hoosier novelist and playwright, is on his honeymoon today. Tarkington, with his bride, who was formerly Mrs Susana K. Robinson, have left here for Indianapolis, Tarkington's home. From there they will go to Chicago for a few days.

Less than a year ago, Tarkington was divorced from Mrs. Fletcher Tarkington.

Only a few intimate friends were present at the marriage of Tarkington to Mrs. Robinson. The new Mrs. Tarkington is the daughter of a wealthy banker.

PROMINENT CHINESE MASON IS ARRESTED

San Kee Is Caught in Pittsburgh Opium Den.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 7.—Sam Kee, leader of the On Leong Tong, former president of the Gee Gong Tong, or Chinese Free Masons, of Pittsburgh, and prominent in various Chinese societies and enterprises, was the principal prisoner captured last night in a raid by the police on an opium den in the Chinese quarter.

MUTINY IN THE TURKISH ARMY

Many Officers and Men Being Put to Death.

CHRISTIANS IN THE CAPITAL IN DANGER

Mohammedan Leader Urges That Moslems Rise.

Pestilence Threatens Constantinople While the Bulgars Without the City Walls Strike Terror into the Hearts of the People—Catholics Are Great Sufferers—Salonika Reported Evacuated.

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—Mutiny has broken out in the Turkish army at the front, and many soldiers and officers in the ranks along the Chatalja defences are being put to death daily, according to information which reached this city today through secret channels.

Court-martials are sitting here daily for the trial of officers who refused to join their regiments when hostilities broke out. Sixty-five have already been put to death in the military prison and 125 more are under sentence of death. Many soldiers, as well as officers, have been found in hiding, having disappeared when the troops left for the front.

An army of 25,000 Kurds is marching on Constantinople and it is feared they will attack the city. The plight of Christians here is deplorable. The dangers were heightened today by an edict from the Sheik ul Islam, the head of the Mohammedan priesthood, exhorting all true followers of Mohammed to rise.

There is grave danger of pestilence in the city. The presence of 30,000 wounded men, the scarcity of water and bread and the unsanitary conditions attending the housing of an army, all combine to affect seriously the public health.

Roman Catholics, so far, have been the greatest sufferers in Asia Minor. The French consul at Beirut reports that Mohammedans there looted several monasteries. The Turkish soldiers who were sent against the villages joined in sacking the buildings.

Turks Evacuate Salonika.

Athens, Nov. 7.—The Turks are reported today to have evacuated Salonika, leaving the city at the mercy of the advancing Greek and Servian armies.

The advance guards of Crown Prince Constantine's Greek army and King Peter's Servion army are within a few miles of Salonika. The Turks fled eastward, in the direction of Constantinople, along the southern border of the Orient railway, burning all bridges behind them and tearing up the railroad to prevent transporting soldiers.

An important victory was won by Greeks at Pendingdala pass yesterday. When day dawned this morning the Turks had withdrawn from their fortress, leaving many dead and wounded. The Greeks had shelled the fort all day, almost destroying it. The Greeks are now in possession of the pass.

Austria Recalls Warships.

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—Austria recalled her two warships from the Bosphorus today and they immediately sailed for foreign ports.

This action by Austria created great surprise, in view of the fact that a great international fleet is gathering in Turkish waters to protect foreigners, in the event of a general massacre.

It is believe however that the withdrawal of the ships is a part of the diplomatic game Austria is playing.

Bulgars Take Turk Villages.

Sofia, Nov. 7.—Bulgarian troops today occupied Turkish villages near Chatalja. It is at Chatalja that the main divisions of Constantinople stand.

Word was momentarily expected here today that a general attack upon the forts had been commenced by the Bulgarians, despite the desire of the Bulgarian generals to have the seige guns, which have been bombarding Adrianople, at the front before an attack upon Chatalja is commenced.

Shell Adrianople During Fog.

Bulgarian Army Headquarters, Stara Zagora, Nov. 7.—Under cover of a heavy fog, a Bulgarian battery approached Adrianople early today and threw several shells into the Sultanschi mosque, which was badly damaged. The battery was under fire for half an hour, but withdrew without the loss of a single man.

Members of the Bulgarian Red Cross are fired upon every time they attempt to care for the wounded lying outside the walls of Adria-

THE VICTORY IS OVERWHELMING

The Figures Show Increase in Wilson Lead.

SEVERAL OF THE BIG STATES ARE IN DOUBT

412 Electoral Votes Claimed by the Democrats.

It Is Not Certain That the Wilson Men Will Gain Control of United States Senate—New Hampshire, With Rhode Island, Slips into Democratic Column — What Latest Election Figures Reveal.

New York, Nov 7—Corrected and additional returns increased the magnitude of the victory of Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party generally throughout the country. The latest figures show that Wilson carried 38 states at the polls, while Roosevelt was second with six and Taft third with three.

Democratic chairmen of Pennsylvania, Kansas and Idaho wired to national headquarters that the results in those states were so close that it might require an official canvass to make sure that Wilson had lost. They were emphatic in their claims of victory. This would take two states from Roosevelt and one from Taft.

As it stood, Wilson will have 412 electoral votes, the greatest number ever given to a presidential candidate; Roosevelt will have 104 and Taft will have 12 from his four states. This will give Wilson a majority of 296 over all, a plurality of 308 over Roosevelt and a plurality of 400 over Taft. Roosevelt will beat Taft by 92 votes.

The day brought three significant changes in the electoral count and Taft was the loser in each. New Hampshire with four electors and little Rhode Island with five for the first time in the memory of man went into the Democratic column, while Washington's seven votes went to the credit of Roosevelt.

Wyoming, which was credited to Wilson on election night, goes into the doubtful column.

Senate In Doubt?

It is not quite certain that the Democrats will have control of both branches of congress. There is no question about the house, in which the Democrats will have a plurality of 161, according to the latest figures. The Progressives will have 16 members.

The senate is still in doubt. At best the Democrats can not hope to control it by more than a slight majority, but the results in Michigan, Illinois and Colorado are still in doubt. In all these states where senators are to be selected the legislature is so close on joint ballot, as the returns come in every district must be counted before the result can be known.

The senate as constituted today consists of 50 Republicans, 43 Democrats, there being three vacancies. The terms of 35 senators expire on March 3, 14 Democrats and 21 Republicans. Upon the face of the latest returns New Jersey, New Hampshire, Delaware, Colorado and Montana apparently have elected Democratic legislatures, which will send Democrats to the upper house at Washington.

Some of Wilson's pluralities were: Texas, 150,000; Arkansas, 60,000, Georgia, 35,000. New Hampshire 2,000; West Virginia, 30,000; New York, 200,000; Ohio, 115,000; Rhode Island, 11,000; Colorado 40,000; Massachusetts, 18,000. Indiana, 100,000; Kentucky, 100,000. North Dakota, 10,000; Minnesota, 10,000; California, 15,000.

Kenyon May Be Returned.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 7.—Woodrow Wilson has a lead of 10,794 plurality over Colonel Roosevelt in 37 out of 99 counties in Iowa. There are no figures yet available to give any kind of an estimate on the total vote for any presidential candidate In many counties election boards were still counting the ballots The state legislature is apparently Republican by a small majority, which will insure the re-election of Senator W. S. Kenyon.

Rhode Island Complete.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 7.—Complete returns in Rhode Island show that for the first time since the organization of the Republican party a Democratic candidate for president carried the state. Wilson's vote in Tuesday's election was 30,299 while Taft received 27,755 and Roosevelt 16,488. The Republicans re-elected Governor A. J. Pothier for a fifth term, a record unparalleled in the history of the state.

Pennsylvania's Delegation.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—The complexion of the next congressional delegation from Pennsylvania will be 23 Republicans and 13 Democrats, as against a present representation of 24 Republicans and 8 Democrats. The official count may change these figures slightly.

West Virginia

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 7.—Additional returns received from Tuesday's election in West Virginia show that Wilson has carried the state by perhaps 40,000, with Taft and Roosevelt running neck and neck for second honors; that Dr. H. D. Hatfield, Republican, has been elected governor by from 12,000 to 15,000 and that the remainder of the Republican state ticket, including the congressman-at-large, has been elected, that four out of five district congressmen have been elected by the Republicans, with the fifth in doubt; that the legislature will be Republican on joint ballot and will elect a Republican to succeed United States Senator C. W. Watson, and that the prohibition amendment has been ratified by a majority of more than 50,000.

Missouri Revised.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 7.—Revised figures on the election in Missouri indicate that the plurality of Wilson in the state will reach 75,000. Wilson is leading Taft by approximately 66,000 votes and Roosevelt is running approximately 25,000 votes behind Taft. The entire Democratic ticket is elected by large pluralities, and the legislature will be overwhelmingly Democratic, with a majority on joint ballot of about 78.

Elected After 17 Attempts.

Riverhead, L. I., Nov. 7. — Thirty-five years go Dr. Robert G. Cornwell of this place was nominated by Democrats to be a coroner of Suffolk county. He was defeated that year and each second year thereafter he has been renominated, and 16 times has been defeated. This year Dr. Cornwell is elected. The Democrats of the county will celebrate the victory by tendering him a dinner.

Surprise In Massachusetts.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 7. — Quite the surprising feature of the election, which not only gave the electoral votes of Massachusetts to the Democrats for the first time and elected a Democratic governor and lieutenant governor, is the fact that the legislature is strongly Republican, which means the selection of a Republican as successor to W. Murray Crane as United States senator.

California For Wilson.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—California will probably give a plurality for Wilson of about 12,000. San Francisco gave 10,387 plurality for Wilson. As the legislature will have at least 25 Democratic members, those with the Taft legislators elected will form strong combinations that will be able to block any measures introduced by Johnson's followers

Republicans Elect Governor.

Milwaukee, Nov. 7.—That Woodow Wilson carried Wisconsin is generally accepted, but Governor Francis E. McGovern, Republican, according to late figures will retain office for a second term. Wilson's plurality is variously estimated at from 15,000 to 30,000 over Taft. McGovern's victory means the election of the rest of the Republican state ticket.

Kansas Looks Democratic.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 7.—Practically complete returns from 63 of the 105 counties in Kansas gave the Democratic national ticket a plurality of 10 000. The state Democratic ticket also made big gains.

Arizona Adopts Recall

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 7.—The constitutional amendments providing for the recall of judges and to permit the state to engage in industrial pursuits were carried by overwhelming majorities.

Leader Mann Re-elected.

Chicago, Nov. 7 — Congressman James R. Mann, Republican leader of the national house, has been re-elected. He was opposed by a Democratic and a Progressive candidate.

PROFESSOR FERRIS ELECTED GOVERNOR

New Michigan Governor Is Well Known Here.

Professor W. N. Ferris, who was elected Democratic governor of Michigan is quite well known in this city. He spoke at the last county teachers' institute in this city, during the past summer, and as a lecturer pleased exceedingly.

Governor-elect Ferris will appear here again next summer as one of the speakers on the program of the Marion County Chautauqua assembly.

WANAMAKER LEADS ON JUDICIAL TICKET

Complete Returns from 1,979 Ohio Precincts Are In.

Columbus, Nov. 7. Complete returns from 1,979 precincts over the state, including Cuyahoga, Hamilton and Franklin counties, give for the long term in the supreme court

Wanamaker, 403,112, Newman, 80,633, Scofield, 67,782; Allread, 50,745, and Winch, 57,282. For the short term Wilkin 94,798, Spear, 63,563, Thatcher, 10,616.

It is believed Wanamaker's lead is so large that he can not be headed off.

WORSE DEFEAT IN FIFTY YEARS

Democrats Poll a Phenomenal Vote in Ohio.

PROGRESSIVES RUN RATHER POOR THIRD

Wilson-Cox Crowd Supreme in the Buckeye State.

The President-Elect Has Plurality of More Than 115,000 Over Taft. Cox Will Win With an Equal Majority Over General Brown—Nineteen Democratic Congressmen Are Sent to Washington from Ohio.

Columbus, O., Nov. 7. — Not in 50 years has Ohio given to the Democrats so stupendous a majority as was polled Tuesday. Returns from 2,057 precincts out of 3,265 in Ohio give Wilson 150,166, Taft 105,183 and Roosevelt 73,907. If Wilson maintains the same lead in the remaining precincts his plurality over Taft will be about 115,000, and Taft's plurality over Roosevelt will be about 80,000. However, Democratic headquarters maintained that sections yet to be heard from would increase Wilson's lead

Congressman Cox, governor-elect, will win with an equal majority over General R. B. Brown, the Republican candidate, and Garford, the Progressive candidate, will poll about 60,000. So completely did Wilson, at the head of the national ticket, and Congressman James M. Cox, the candidate for governor, snow their opponents under in this, the home state of President Taft, that the president even lost his home county.

The Democrats are supreme in power in all the state offices, both branches of the general assembly, and have elected a majority of the congressmen, including the first congressman-at-large to be elected in Ohio.

It is the first time since Franklin Pierce defeated General Winfield Scott, 50 years ago, that Ohio has been swept into the Democratic electoral college in complete form

Latest figures show Governor Wilson carried the state by 125,000, and it appears that the plurality of James M. Cox, Democrat, for governor, will exceed that by 15,000 or 20,000. The returns serve to bear out the prediction that General R. B. Brown, Republican, has beaten A. L. Garford, Progressive, by 20,000 or 40,000, while Taft had a lead of about 70,000 over Roosevelt in the state.

War to Continue.

The defeated campaign managers of the Republican and Progressive parties had no notion there would be an amalgamation of the divided G. O. P. Walter F. Brown said: "The Progressives have just begun to fight," and announced a conference of Ohio Progressives would be held early in December.

Harry M Daugherty issued a letter to Republican committeemen urging a war of extermination against all committeemen who had supported Roosevelt and all candidates who had not worked for Taft

Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan ran next to Cox on the Democratic state ticket State Auditor E. M. Fullington ran far in the lead on the Republican state ticket

The legislature will stand: Senate, 24 Democrats, 9 Republicans; house, 86 Democrats, 42 Republicans.

Chairman Brown and Arthur L. Garford will attend the Progressive party conference at Chicago Dec. 10, which National Chairman Dixon has called.

Prosecuting Attorney E. C. Turner, who assisted in the prosecution of the legislative graft cases, was re-elected by a plurality of 5,208 leading the Republican county ticket by more than 2,000

It was a most desperate effort of the Turks to the east of Adrianople to capture Kirk Kilessch. A Turkish column marched southwestward from the Black sea-coast and was joined by all the Ottoman forces encountered en route

After a long artillery duel, the Bulgars charged, breaking the Turkish ranks and the Ottoman soldiers fled southward toward the Chatalja forts

THE SOCIALISTS MAKE BIG GAIN

The Party Polls Nearly 800,000 Votes in Country.

VOTE IN NEW YORK IS MORE THAN DOUBLED

Great Strides Taken in Many of the States.

The Socialist Vote the Country Over Is Surprising on Account of Size. Debs Gets Over 40,000 Votes in Cook County, Illinois—Gains Also in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland and Western States.

New York, Nov. 5.—Revised returns and estimates made for localities where returns are yet incomplete indicate that the Socialists polled nearly 800,000 votes in the presidential election for their candidate, Eugene V. Debs, against 420,743 given him in 1908.

Gains were made by the Socialists in practically every state, but the largest were recorded in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Maryland, West Virginia, Colorado and Oklahoma.

In New York state the Socialist vote of 1908 was more than doubled, great gains for the party being made in Buffalo, Rochester, Schenectady, New York, Troy and Utica. A gain of 2,400 was made over the 1908 returns in Buffalo, a 12,000 gain is claimed for New York city and 3,000 in Rochester, while the vote yesterday in Troy, Utica and many of the smaller cities in the state more than doubled that of four years ago.

The most surprising showing made by the Socialists in the Empire state was in Schenectady city and county Complete returns for the city gave Wilson 4,134; Taft 4,089, Roosevelt 2,057 and Debs 2,871, while in the gubernatorial fight Charles Edward Russell, Socialist, polled 3,041 against 4,760 for Sulzer, 3,944 for Hedges and 2,199 for Straus.

Lunn Makes Great Run.

George R. Lunn, Schenectady's Socialist mayor, the party's nominee for congress in the Thirtieth district, made a great run. Congressman Victor L. Berger went down to defeat in Milwaukee against the fusion candidate. The Socialists polled a big vote throughout the state for Debs. Berger's opponents united to defeat him and succeeded.

The Socialists made pronounced gains in Illinois, especially in Cook county and the party leaders claimed the election of William H. Cunnea, as state's attorney for Cook county over Maclay Hoyne, Democrat

Returns from all but 200 of the Cook county election districts gave Debs 40,000 votes, nearly double that given him four years ago and only a few thousand less than given Taft Kennedy, the Socialist candidate for governor, made a strong showing.

In Pennsylvania the Socialists polled about 20,000 of the 110,000 votes cast in Allegheny county and claimed the election of three congressmen on the first returns.

The Socialist vote cast in Oklahoma at this election was 30,000 an increase of nearly forty per cent over that of four years ago. An increase of twenty per cent was made in Maryland.

ACCEPTS DEFEAT PHILOSOPHICALLY

President Is Not Downcast Because He Fails To Win.

Washington, Nov. 7. — President Taft arrived here today from his home in Cincinnati. Mr. Taft was not depressed or downcast over the result of the election and in discussing it with his personal friends accepted his defeat philosophically. He believes that the split in the Republican party and the widespread popular discontent are the two principal factors causing the Democratic landslide

The president has made no definite plans for his future after the fourth of March next, when he will go out of office He has repeatedly told his friends, however, that he intends to practice law in his home city.

THE COMMONER WOULD ABOLISH UNIT RULE

Bryan Attacks Offensive Measure in an Editorial Today.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 7.—Abolishment of the unit rule is urged by W. J. Bryan in a Commoner editorial today Says the editorial:

"The Baltimore platform declares that national committeemen should commence to serve as soon as elected, this puts an end to the holdover system, under which the old national committee could organize a new convention

"Now let the unit rule be abolished. It has served to strengthen the power of the boss, it must go. Under the unit rule Charles F. Murphy, for instance, by securing forty-six or more of the ninety votes from New York, was able to use the remaining votes as his personal property."

EDWARD HUNTSMAN DIES IN OKLAHOMA

BIGELOW WANTS TO TO BECOME SPEAKER

Cincinnati Man Would Direct Ohio House of Representatives.

Columbus O., Nov. 7.—Herbert Bigelow of Cincinnati, president of the constitutional convention announced his candidacy for speaker of the Ohio house of representatives in the following statement:

"The fight for a progressive democratic government will now be shifted to the next state legislature The game of the corporation lobby will be to work under cover for the election of a speaker of the house through whom committees can be named and legislation controlled. Prompt steps should be taken to prevent this; I therefore announce that I am a candidate for speaker of the house."

Verdict for Plaintiff.

A jury in the forcible detention suit of John R. Hazelhurst, a Buffalo commission merchant, against Gordon Putnam, was out a little over a minute in the court of Justice C. W. Haberman, Thursday, when it returned a verdict for the plaintiff. This is the same case over which a jury disagreed last week. After the verdict, Putnam was given two days to pay his rent or be ejected. He was represented by Attorney Fred W. Warner, while Attorney Louis E. Myers was counsel for the plaintiff.

MUTINY IN THE TURKISH ARMY

nople and three have been killed by Turkish bullets.

Bulgarians Repulsed.

London, Nov. 7.—An assault on the Chatalja defences of Constantinople, south of Lake Derkos, was begun at dawn today by Czar Ferdinand's army, according to messages received by the Servian government at noon

The Bulgarians had made a breach in the first defence and had entered when a Turkish land mine exploded and killed or wounded more than 300 men The Bulgars fell back and the Turks again occupied an unbroken front.

Greeks Enter Salonika.

Athens, Nov. 7.—A telegram from Katerina, on the west coast of the Gulf of Salonika, states that the Greek army entered Salonika this afternoon and formally took possession of the city

Smallpox has broken out in Salonika. Today Crown Prince Constantine telegraphed from the front for a large quantity of disinfectant and medical supplies to combat the disease, should it spreak to the Greek army.

SERVIANS CAPTURE TURK STRONGHOLD

Monastir Reported Falling and Salonica Tottering.

London, Nov. 7.—English correspondents at Constantinople wire that it is not believed there will be an immediate attack by the victorious Bulgarians on Tchataldja, the gateway to Constantinople. Owing to the condition of the roads, such an attack is improbable before next Sunday.

Although since the porte's decision in regard to mediation the chief role would seem to be in the hands of the diplomatists, the government is making active preparations for a serious defense of the lines about Tchataldja.

The foreign military attaches, who returned to Constantinople, held a conference and resolved to go back to Hademkeui, the present headquarters of the Turkish army, to be present at the eventual decisive battle.

A dispatch received here from Rome says that the Turkish stronghold of Monastir surrendered to the Servians Reports were also received that the situation for the Turkish garrison at Salonica is most desperate The army itself is slowly disintegrating and it is fear of punishment for desertion that holds the rest of it together. Some of the officers, in order to flee without detection, are disguising themselves as old women and are hobbling about the city with their faces hidden by Mohammedan veils. The army authorities have tried to check the wholesale desertions without effect, and have shot four officers and 20 men whom they caught.

The Servians are almost in the outskirts of the city.

That 25,000 were killed and wounded on both sides in the latest two-days' battle, ending in a Bulgarian defeat of the Turks between Saria and Choriu, was reported here. The victors were hastening to join the attack on the Chatalja forts, Constantinople's last defense.

The new Medici collars are strong rivals of the Robespierre, but not so universally becoming.

SLAYER JOKES WITH OFFICERS

Prison Life Has No Terrors for Charles N. Kramer.

INSISTS HE MURDERS TO PROTECT HIMSELF

Exonerates His Wife from All Blame in Matter.

The Circus Clown, Slayer of Miss Sophia Singer, Is Expected To Repeat Story Before the Grand Jury. Police Put No Credence in Tale. He Greets His Wife with Much Affection.

Chicago Nov. 4—Charles Newton Kramer whose stage name is Conray circus clown, acrobat and high diver and who confessed to having killed Miss Sophia Gertrude Singer of Baltimore Md., it is expected, will repeat his tragic story of the murder when the coroner's inquest over the body of the victim is resumed. Mrs. Kramer who gave the police the first definite information that her husband had killed Miss Singer, also will testify with a number of other witnesses In the meantime Kramer and his wife are being held without bail

Kramer's demeanor remains the same as when he first was taken into custody He insists that he killed the woman in self defense and professes to believe that he will be freed when given a jury trial in the criminal court He continues to jest about his predicament and seemed in a jolly mood

Police Discredit Claim.

The police profess to place little credence in Kramer's declaration that he killed Miss Singer in self-defense and will endeavor to show that the motive for the killing was robbery

In support of this theory the police point to the circumstance that the clothesline which Kramer used to bind Miss Singer was taken from the back yard at 6 oclock in the evening several hours before the murder was committed

His explanation of this is that his wife asked him to get the clothesline so she might dry some clothes in their room

Kramer and his wife met in Police Captain Voetbaar's private office for a few moments They greeted each other affectionately

"I told the police that you had nothing to do with the murder" Kramer said to his wife "I alone am to blame and am willing to take all the consequences I hope they do not try to stick you for it

Kramer's Story.

Kramer whose stage name is Conray added a new feature to the statement made by his wife Beatrice Prall Kramer known on the variety stage as the burlesque queen" He said that he knocked Miss Singer down in self defense when she attacked him with a razor after he had rebuked her for making he said, a suggestion to Mrs Kramer to go out and meet some men Kramer exonerated his wife from all blame in connection with the crime

He said that he never meant to kill Miss Singer and that he bound and gagged her to prevent her making an outcry He said that he took $35 from Miss Singer's purse and two suits of clothes belonging to W R Warthen Miss Singer's fiance because he was penniless and shabbily clad

Death Comes as Result of Illness of Two Years.

MR FISHER FORMER RESIDENT OF MARION

Son of the Late Dr. and Mrs. Timothy B Fisher—Devotes Much of His Time to Travel in Foreign Countries—The Funeral Services Are Held Here Monday Morning

William Bennet Fisher, a former well known Marion resident died in the New York hospital in New York City Saturday He had been an invalid for almost two years and the finest surgical skill as well as devoted attention proved unavailing to save his life

Mr Fisher was a son of Dr Timothy B Fisher and Eleanor P Fisher He was born December 27, 1854 and resided in Marion the greater part of his life When a young man he lived several years in Kansas and in recent years made his home at Kathmere near Lake George New York

On Oct 25 1871 Mr Fisher was married to Katherine E Johnson daughter of the late Rice Henry Johnson who was one of the founders of the Marion County bar and for a number of years its president She and their two children Henry Johnson Fisher, of New York City and Mrs H Le Roy Satterlee of Morristown, New Jersey survive the family James B Fisher and Charles C Fisher of Marion are brothers

Mr Fisher was one of the originators of the firm of McMurray, Fisher & Company, which was succeeded by the McMurray & Fisher Sulky company About twenty years ago he sold all of his stock to the late Thomas J McMurray and the company continued its prosperous business under the name of the McMurray Sulky company Since his retirement a lack of health had prevented his engaging in active business, although he remained a director in the Marion County bank

Devoting much of his time to travel in foreign countries, Mr Fisher's broad experience made him a most interesting conversationalist He had always maintained a lively interest in the welfare of Marion, his birthplace, and held a warm friendship for the companions of his youth

ELISHA L. LA RUE IS FOUND DEAD IN BED

Is Asphyxiated by Natural Gas in a Hotel.

MAKES MISTAKE IN TURNING OFF LIGHT

Body Is Discovered Monday Morning When the Smell of Escaping Gas Reaches the Hotel Office—Leaves a Widow and Family of Grown Children—Was sBrought Here

Elisha Le Roy La Rue, sixty-seven years old, was found dead in his bed in a hotel at Bellefontaine, Monday morning at 6 30 o clock He had been asphyxiated by natural gas, which was flowing from the jet when the night clerk forced the door open

It is believed that the aged man turned on the gas by mistake when he went to extinguish the electric light close beside it, the fixture being a combination gas and electric

Mr La Rue was enroute home from Arkansas, where he had driven from Marion the past summer to take up some land He was coming back to Marion to see about his pension papers Relatives can not understand why he got off the train at Bellefontaine unless he intended seeing his nephew, Charles White who lives there

Mr La Rue retired between 9 and 10 o clock and his body was discovered as a result of the gas becoming so strong that the night clerk noticed it down stairs

The idea of the old man taking his own life with suicidal intent is scouted by Marion relatives, who believe that death was purely accidental

Mr La Rue was a native of La Rue and was well known He is survived by a widow, who had been with a daughter Mrs Charles Krenkler, of Waukeegan, Illinois and the following children, in addition to Mrs Krenkler Mrs Frank E Disbennett and Charles La Rue, of Marion Mrs Perry Uncapher, of Green Camp, D H and J V La Rue of Redlands California, Mrs George Medick, of Columbus and Chandler Brown, of Columbus, a half brother

The distance was too far and he fell, but nothing wrong was noticed until Sept 20 when a painful swelling of the groin and bleeding of the abdomen developed Three weeks' treatment so reduced the bleeding that the boy was able to try to stand but on Oct 11, while he was walking unaided he fell and started the bleeding again on Oct. 15 This caused the whole of the left groin to swell to a point beyond the center of the abdomen The bleeding naturally caused great anaiia which will require prolonged recuperation and will possibly interfere with the free use of the patient's legs for a long time

P. O. SHARPLESS IS FOUND DEAD MONDAY

Dies in Buggy While Starting for the Country.

PARALYSIS OF HEART IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Mr. Sharpless Is One of the Best-Known Residents of the City—Is a Resident Here During Greater Part of His Life—Is Member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Peter Oliver Sharpless, seventy eight years old, retired druggist and well known throughout the county was found dead in his buggy on Sharpless court near his home No 520 east Center street, Monday morning shortly before 7 30 o'clock He died of paralysis of the heart

Mr Sharpless had gone to the barn in the rear of his home, hitched the family horse to a storm-topped buggy, and evidently had just started to drive to his farm, two miles northeast of the city, when stricken When found he held the lines in one hand, with the lap robe tucked close about him and his head leaning against one side of the buggy He had been dead several minutes when seen by Miss Claudia Paxton, a clerk, who was enroute uptown from her home on Sharpless court She screamed and Jacob Judd a carpenter, came and found Mr Sharpless' body still warm

Members of the Sharpless household had just started from the house, thinking that it was about time for him to drive around in front of the residence as had been his custom Coroner W H Hinklin was called and pronounced death due to heart paralysis He had died without a struggle

Cause of Death

Mr Sharpless had been suffering from slight attacks of indigestion, and this is believed to have superinduced the fatal heart attack He had made all arrangements for a trip to Panama expecting to leave Marion for the isthmus with John E Waddell, January 20 His death came as a great shock to his intimate friends and associates

Mr Sharpless was a descendent of John Sharples, not Sharpless who, with his family, emigrated from England with William Penn's colony and landed at Chester Pennsylvania August 24, 1682 They were among the earliest settlers in Pennsylvania and their coat of arms has been preserved and handed down from generation to generation since 1664

The deceased belonged to the seventh generation from John Sharples He was born in Columbia county, Pennsylvania May 16 1834, a son of Edward and Ann Pancoast Sharpless who were natives of the same county and for many years resided in Marion county, having come to this county from Franklin county in 1844

Business Career

Mr Sharpless began his business career as a clerk in 1848 and in 1853 embarked in the drygoods business with the late Thomas Search under the firm name of Search & Sharpless In the fall of 1855 he and the late Davidson William & Co purchased a stock of goods of Fisher Reed, and in 1857 he bought his partner's interest and continued in mercantile pursuits until 1863, when he removed to Richland county

Upon his return to Marion the following fall, Mr Sharpless bought the drug stock of the late Harvey Peters and continued in the drug business until he permanately retired in 1901 At the time of his retirement, he was the oldest business man in Marion in point of continuous service

In January 1883, Mr Sharpless had admitted into partnership H C and William Hoberman, and when he retired the drug firm became known as H C Hoberman & Company He turned his attention to agriculture and fine Jersey cattle

Proud of Cemetery.

In recent years Mr Sharpless found almost his sole employment in looking after the Marion cemetery, of which he was very proud For more than forty years he had been a trustee of the Marion Cemetery association and one of the delights of his life was to keep Marion cemetery one of the most beautiful burial grounds in this part of Ohio He devoted the greater part of his time to the improvement of the cemetery

June 24, 1857, Mr Sharpless was united in marriage to Miss Martha M McIntyre, a native of Charlton, Worcester county, Massachusetts his wife dying in 1898 He was a member of the First Presbyterian church He is survived by one sister, Mrs Celinda Runyon, with whom he lived Thomas Oscar Sharpless, of Marion, and Clay Sharpless, of Indianapolis

Marion was a village of about 600 when Mr Sharpless came here with his Quaker parents The family first resided on the site of the old Novelty Saddlery works on south Main street and later in the picturesque home of the late Davidson McWilliams on east Center street

The funeral services of Peter Oliver Sharpless were held at the late residence on east Center street Thursday afternoon at 2 o clock

REPORT OF CORONER IN THE RIED KILLING

Testimony Given by Witnesses in the Case.

YOUNG MAN LIES DOWN ON RAILWAY TRACK

Lies with Head on One Rail and Feet on Another — Engineer Sounds Warning, but Victim Pays No Attention—Impossible To Stop the Train—An Unusual Case.

Dr. Stanley J. Brown, county coroner, has filed in the court of common pleas his report of the inquest conducted over the body of Carl P. Ried, Erie brakeman, killed October 24, in Allen township, near North Lewisburg, says the Marysville Tribune of Thursday, speaking of the awful fate of the young Marionite last week. The expense of the inquest was $29.70, most of which was for witness fees.

Coroner Brown took the testimony of Levi Snuffin and his son, Ralph Snuffin; also A. Richardson, P. J. Savage, Harvey White, Conrad Gaudert, C. H. Winfield and C. R. Phillips, members of the crew of the westbound local freight, No. 36, which struck and killed Mr. Ried.

The testimony of Mr. Snuffin and his son showed that the brakeman, who was acting as flagman for an eastbound work train, first laid down by the side of the track, then changed his position and stretched himself on the railroad with his feet on one rail and his head on the other. They saw the train strike him, but could not say whether or not he was asleep when the accident occurred.

A. Richardson, engineer on No. 36, stated that he first saw the brakeman lying on the track when his train was some distance away. He at once shut off steam and applied the air brakes, meanwhile sounding the signal of warning with the whistle. Ried, he said, made no effort to get off the track, and the engineer was unable to stop his train until the engine and five cars had passed over the body. The testimony of Engineer Richardson was corroborated by Fireman P. J. Savage, Conductor Conrad Gaudert and Brakemen Harvey White, C. H. Winfield and C. R. Phillips.

BANKRUPTCY COURT BUSINESS BAROMETER

Bankruptcy Proceedings Are Very Scarce at Present.

Not a Marion county resident has filed an petition-in-bankruptcy since May 15, according to Referee-in-Bankruptcy Hoke W. Donithen.

"That's a prosperity item," declared Mr. Damithen, last Saturday "When people don't go into bankruptcy it shows that times are pretty prosperous. The postoffice may be a good barmeter of business, but so is the bankruptcy court."

Mr. Donithen further declared that, so far as he knew, business conditions had never before been as prosperous as they are now.

LIFE INSURANCE MEN ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

A Big Meeting Held at the Y. M. C. A. Building.

CHARLES E. SCHAAD HOST ON THIS OCCASION

The Program of Saturday is Followed by Luncheon—A Number of Excellent Addresses Are Delivered During the Morning and Afternoon.

"How many home runs did you make this year?"

That was the question uppermost in the minds of the thirty insurance representatives of the Midland Mutual Life Insurance company at the Y. M. C. A. Building, Saturday.

A "home run" in the insurance business is writing a policy for $4,000 or upward, and the representatives from the seventeen counties in the Western Ohio agency reported a good many "homers."

The various representatives were entertained at luncheon by Charles E. Schaad, of Marion, manager of the company in Western Ohio.

The gathering was called to order at 10:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building. It was opened with five-minute talks by the various agents. Papers were contributed by C. C. Leiter, of Mt. Gilead, and C. A. Bowman of Edison, on "Why a Young Man Should Carry Endowment insurance;" "H. V. Shoemaker, of Delaware, and A. A. Benedict, of Marengo, on "How I Obtain Prospects; "D. E. Black, of Marion, on "Life Insurance a Factor in Education;" J. L. Porter, of Marysville, on "The Opportunity for the Agents in Life Insurance;" J. Burton Wells, of Waynesfield, and E. E. Wells, of Lima, on "Closing the Application with a Binding Receipt," and W. T. Crum, of Tiffin, on "Rewards of a Life Insurance Agent."

That afternoon, J. R. Robinson, of Marion, read a paper on the "Cashier's Relation to the Agency," and Manager Schaad contributed a paper on "The Manager's Duties and Responsibilities."

Other addresses were made by Secretary B. F. Reinmund and Comptroller C. W. Steinman, of Columbus, and R. A. Tuttle and J. A. Brady of Cleveland.

Friday County Commissioner J. K. Leeper said that the Brooks free turnpike, located in Grand Prairie township, will be rushed to completion, following the supreme court's decision denying an injunction permanently enjoining its construction.

Pike Commissioners Fred Brooks, William Mahaffey and Frank Baer will now employ an engineer, who will make an estimate of the cost of the improvement and the contract will be awarded.

The proposed pike will run west from the Marion-Upper Sandusky pike to what is known as the Carpenter corners, a distance of about three miles.

LAWYERS' WRANGLE DELAYS COLLECTION

Lewis R. Holland Is Still Unable To Collect Money.

Although the supreme court some time ago decided that Lewis R. Holland was entitled to recover $10,000 judgment, with interest, from the Erie Railroad company for the loss of a leg, he is still unable to get his money because of a wrangle between his attorneys, Scofield & Durfee, Grant E. Mouser and Harry N. Quigley, the latter now residing in Cincinnati, and Crissinger & Guthery, local counsel for the Erie.

The railroad is willing to pay interest on the judgment from August 24, 1909, the day the motion for a new trial was overruled in the local common pleas court, and Holland's lawyers insist that it pay interest on the big judgment from May 23, 1909, the begining of the court term. The interest amounts to $1.67 a day.

It is declared that, if the attorneys can not come to a settlement, the matter will again be carried into court. The supreme court may be asked for an order directing the date when interest should begin.

ITALIAN BEATEN BY FELLOW COUNTRYMEN

Assailants Arrested and Fined $25 and Costs Each.

Antony Mussare and Sabastino Colasono, Italians, were fined $25 and costs by Justice Charles E. Gompf, Saturday for assaulting a fellow countryman, Guiseppi Germeno. They paid and were released.

The two Italians claimed that Germeno "peached" on them and caused them to lose their jobs with the Erie Railroad company, so they waylaid Germeno in the Erie storehouse and beat him unconscious. He was found by railroad detectives, who caused the arrest of his assailants. Germeno, to use the description of Justice Gompf, looked like "he had been run through a sausage mill."

The election will not be thrown into congress.

We can take the result very good-naturedly. We preached the truth throughout the campaign, and can await the vindication of our prophecies without impatience. And we find many litttle compensations in browsing among the returns.

It would be really sacriligious to assert that the Lord lost a battle at Armageddon on Tuesday.

Bring on your twenty-five cent chickens and your ten-cent eggs, Mr. Wilson.

In any event, all the responsibility is put up to our Democratic friends.

The international polar commission will convene in Rome during the meeting of the tenth international geographical congress, April 2, 1913.

The suggestion of Mr. Bryan for a place in the Wilson cabinet will not be reassuring to those who have predicted that the new administration would ignor its platform declarations and try to preserve our present commercial and industrial prosperity. If we did not have a stake in the business game or were indifferent to the welfare of the country, we should like to see Mr. Bryan secretary of the treasury, for he holds unique views upon financial questions. He professes to still believe in the free coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one, while not making it a chief issue in campaigns. We admire Mr. Bryan's ability as an orator and politician, and esteem him for his social gifts, but we have never been able to believe that he has a real grasp upon questions of statesmanship. However, he nominated Wilson and helped Roosevelt to elect him. Both are entitled to a place in the cabinet.

Our chief curiosity is to see how Doctor Wilson reduces the cost of living without lowering prices paid to the farmer and gardener and without lowering wages paid to the toiler in the shops. Perhaps he can do it.

Our hat is off to Chairman Harry M. Daugherty. He never wavered in the fight, though his ammunition was short and the odds heavily against him. Men of the Daugherty type will eventually come to reward.

The Western Reserve has become the Rebellious Reverse. The Republicans of that section of Ohio need more offices and less political ambition.

The Bull Moosers helped a lot of good Republicans and good fellows out of office Tuesday, a fact which should not be forgotten when they seek to return to places of power in the Republican party.

It is time to forget the fiction about Ohio being a Republican state. It has elected Democratic governors four times in succession. But we will "come back" two years hence. By that time the people will be sore at both the state and national administrations and even a Bull Moose bolt will not save them.

The Karshner machine is busted in Columbus; the Walter Brown machine is wrecked in Toledo; there will be a new deal in Cleveland, and that will help to pay for the party losses.

Voting for or against candidates upon lines of religious bias is the meanest, most senseless development of the late campaign. This is a country of religious freedom, and bigotry and intolerance are criminal when they are intruded into the selections of our candidates. The very last question a voter should ask concerning a candidate is "What church does he belong to, or with what sect does he affiliate?

STATE AID FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Texas, Colorado and Arizona have united in sending out word that "lungers" are not wanted there unless they have ample means to pay their way in sanatoriums. On the face of it, this seems cruel, but there is justification for it. So many of the desperate victims of the great white plague exhaust their resources in getting to the region of dry, warm climate, trusting to chance to provide for them after they reach there. But more is required than mere climate to cure or arrest the disease. Nutritious food is essential, medicines are required, shelter is a requisite. The people of those sections have found it too great a strain upon their resources to provide for these unfortunates, and it is pointed out that at least a year's residence in the new environment is necessary in the most favorable cases to secure any benefit. Perhaps out of this new order of things, good may come. The physicians say that cures can be effected in this climate by right living and treatment as well if not so quickly as on the edge of the desert. The home treatment has its advantages in the saving of transportation charges and in the cheering proximity to family and friends. The state has authorized the erection of county tuberculosis sanatoriums. We believe that, to be successful, they should be removed from any tinge of almshouse connection. The tuberculous patient is a wounded soldier in the battle of life. It is his duty to prevent the spread of disease through infection or contagion. If he is willing to make the sacrifice of isolating himself from family, friends, and the busy haunts of men and bend all his will to the task of getting well and restoring himself to usefulness, the state should provide at the common charge the opportunity for doing so. Every day we see the sick kept in places affording no opportunity for pure air, or proper treatment, a heavy burden upon their families because of the pride that forbids their becoming charges upon public charity. One contracts tuberculosis out of the air, for the germs float everywhere and under present conditions they can not be guarded against effectually. The victim is not to blame for his condition and he should be able to secure the treatment he needs, the comforts essential to him, as a right, not as a charity. Rich and poor should be welcomed at the public tuberculosis camps and hospitals on the same footing and under obligations only to adhere to the regimen provided and to obey the rules. Nothing would do more to stop the ravages of the disease, prevent its spread and the exposure of countless lives.

CONTEMPLATING THE RESULT.

It is more a disappointment than a surprise. It was difficult to see how a divided Republican party could win, no matter how strong the Taft administration loomed in the understanding judgment of the American people. Torn through ingratitude, rended by the rule or ruin faction, the Republican party could not successfully appeal to a people grown restless in the reign of good fortune. The nation demanded a change. It was foreseen, but the fight had to be made, nevertheless. The Republican party is the party of protection, and unless it fight for that policy, its usefulness is ended. It had made conscientious effort to sanely inaugurate so called progressive measures, and it had to defend that record of surpassing accomplishment, or see promise held more alluring than patriotic performance. The party confessed President Taft's lack of personal and political popularity, but recognized his eminent services as president and knew him as the highest exponent of party pledges; therefore failure to support him was no less than party repudiation.

More important still, a faction in the party, committed to the cause of a great but dangerous personality, sought to destroy traditions, violate obligations, and establish personal and dictatorial government, rather than our representative form. When history is written, President Taft will stand high as the president who was sacrificed to maintain the heritage of the fathers, the Republican president who blocked the progress of the Roosevelt menace.

The president-elect is a clean, learned, honorable and patriotic man, and the country had better risk the dangers of the economic policy for which his party stands, than return to power the great personality, insane with ambition and heedless of traditions or the lessons of history. Woodrow Wilson will stand to preserve the republic.

The Democratic victory is overwhelming. Democracy will control both the legislative and executive branches of the government. It can adopt such policies and inaugurate such changes as its leaders can agree upon. It has promised a reduced cost of living. We hope it can make good. The American farmer, chief harvester of the higher cost, has voted to reduce his own compensation. He ought to be gratified in his desires. We trust Democracy will carry out the threats or promises of its leaders to wipe out the protective tariff. If the tariff is wrong, if it is not needed, if it conveys unjust and uncalled for privilege, it ought to be wiped out. There has been no effective tampering since 1893. Democrats are in the habit of attacking the tariff in campaigns, and only jockeying in congress. Tariff jealousies started the Republican split. Selfish interets seeking raw materials, and so-called raw materials, like our Ohio wool, started the agitation. We should like the changed policy put to actual test. If protection is wrong, let us have the end of it, and the Republican party is no longer needed. We can then have new political parties, made up of radicals and conservatives, of Individualists and Socialists. This is the inevitable drift.

There is no need of fussing or fuming over the result. Popular preference in popular government has been spoken. Of course, much that is impossible, much that is impracticable, though emphatically promised, will never be realized. And there will be attending grief. The main thing is to go unfalteringly on. We hope the important change of policies may be effected without disturbing our good fortune. President Wilson stands for a gradual tariff change, so far as he is personally concerned. We had rather see a radical step, so the problem can be settled for all time. Then, if tariff for revenue halts our industrial progress, the Republican party can restore, and a nation will dwell in appreciation until the system is scientifically adjusted, or until the country requires its painful lesson again.

Republicans who made the fight this year may treasure the consciousness of a duty performed. General Brown gave the best that was in him, and Harry Dougherty made a gallant fight, where one of less courage would have surrendered ere the contest was begun. Ohio Republicans have proven their metal, they are freed from those who fought traitorously in their ranks, and the Republicans of Ohio will come back.

DEFEATED BOND ISSUE.

While the Marion County Chautauqua association was much disappointed at the way the voters of Marion county turned down the proposed bond issue which would have provided an exhibition hall at the fairground which would have been made available for Chautauqua assemblies, there is no abandonment of the hope for a permanent pavilion. President R. T. Lewis declared today that "the Chautauqua is far too big and too popular an institution to be anyway halted by this temporary reverse. We are going to strive for a permanent assembly building, and trust to the popular appreciation of the Chautauqua to give the needed aid as a semi-public enterprise, privately conducted for the public good."

Dr. C. E. Sawyer has invited the Chautauqua board to dinner at White Oaks, one night next week, and at the dinner plans will be agreed on for the promotion of the pavilion enterprise. Most members of the board are heartily in favor of a bond and stock issue to provide the needed funds, the bond and stock to be disposed of in small sums to Chautauqua patrons and Marionites who feel an interest in the work.

In any event the annual Chautauqua assembly is a fixed institution, so long as it is supported as it has been thus far in its career.

ANONYMOUS COMMUNICATIONS.

[Ohio State Journal.]

Whenever the captain of a newspaper receives a letter, the first thing he does is to see who wrote it, not from curiosity or for publication, but simply to understand that there is sincerity and honesty back of the communication. If there is no reliable name, then into the waste basket it goes, with a sudden flip. He doesn't look to see what is in it, for whatever there is he can make no use of it, because it is nameless.

If a man's name is to the document, that gives it whatever worth it may be entitled to. If it isn't there, it immediately suggests to the editor it may be insincere or a catch of some kind. So remember, if you even want your letter read, be frank and friendly enough to say who you are.

Well, Roosevelt is beaten and we shudder to think what will become of George Perkins' children.

Reporting an election would be a snap, were all precincts to make their returns as speedily as E precinct of the Third.

THE POLITICAL PROSPECT.

President-elect Wilson and the Democratic party have a great opportunity before them. The reforms which are practical, and the so-called progressive measures which are within political sanity, are so generally supported that it will be easy to inaugurate them and prove them out. The basic work and more difficult undertakings are already done, inaugurated under President Taft. Democracy today bears no radically different ideas than the Taft administration, except on the protective tariff, and on that question Mr. Wilson is a conservative revisionist, while Underwood, Clark and other congressional leaders are pronounced in their opposition to protection. For ourselves we had rather see the radical revisionists prevail, not that we favor it, but we wish the test. It may bring a period of depression and halt our industrial progress, it may prove that protection is wholly unnecessary. We should like to see an out-and-out test, even at painful cost. The knowledge will be worth it. President Taft had proposed a way of taking the tariff dispute out of politics and make it a business matter, rather than one of political contention. Democracy opposed that idea, and the country has sustained Democracy. It looks, therefore, as though there were a sweeping call for radical tariff revision.

But Democracy, in ordinary good fortune, has every promise of a long lease of power. It will have to blunder beyond all reason to weaken its hold on the government. It is entrenched in state and nation, triumphant in all the great states. The Republican party, on the other hand, is divided for the present into hopelessly irreconcilable factions. Most of the bosses have gone into the Roosevelt camp, guilty of betrayals that make return to the Republican party impossible. They are strong men too, else they would not be bosses. Stalwart Republicans are so incensed politically that years will not reconcile them to any party formed under the banner of the bolters. The split is beyond remedy, until some great political emergency or common distress elevates a cause beyond the fidelities of party or factional affiliations. Thousands of Republicans, born, bred and battle-scarred as Republican stalwarts, would go to Democracy, under ordinary political conditions, before enrolling with the Roosevelt wreckers. More than likely the disappointed Roosevelt followers, now that they are avowed deserters, feel the same way toward the party with which they once affiliated. These things make us believe Democarcy has gone to victory with a long lease of power in prospect.

Perhaps we are at the beginning of the end, for a considerable period, of government through political parties. We say perhaps. No one can definitely say. The clamor is for pure Democracy. We have come to a conflict soon to impend, between radicals and conservatives. The growth of socialism, formidable in the extreme, suggests a conflict that involves the federal constitution and the existence of our institutions. If Democracy yields to the radicals, the Republican party will come to the needed defense.

All this leads us to admonish real Republicans to gird on the armor anew. There are traditions to preserve, there are accomplishments that inspire, and hopes to cherish. If material good fortune is disturbed the people will turn to the Republican party to restore, as they did in 1896. If representative government is endangered, the Republican party will furnish the veteran defenders, about whom the hope of the nation may be enlisted. The faction that went astray will not endure. A party founded solely on ambition, and spurred by disappointments, can be only a passing manifestation. Real Republicans are for protection and for representative government. Whatever Democracy may do, there will be comfort in knowing there is a party ready to defend, and capable of restoring, when sentiment calls. The Republican party, worthy the name and rich in performance, does not depend upon office and political pap to maintain its entity.

FEMININISM IN FRANCE.

[Chicago Record-Herald.]

Who, asks the Paris Matin, is the man who understands woman? The Matin has received more than 6,000 letters on the subject and these letters reduced to a formula assure us that:

"The man who understands woman is he who does not desire them. He also is the man for whom women feel sometimes friendship, sometimes indifference, but never love. He is, in fact, one who feels his life and thought to be on a parallel with those of women, and in psychology, as in Euclid, parallels, however far prolonged, never meet."

One is really surprised that in Paris such a subject should receive attention: but it is, perhaps, only in Paris, which dotes on what is new, that we can be certain of having a perfervid discussion of the hoary old subjects. What is the significance of this subject which seems at first glance so trivial? Transfer the discussion to England or America and the significance at once becomes plain.

In England or America, in order to escape being ludicrous, we should have to change the form of the question and ask, Where is the woman who understands man? That is the modern, and the only modern form of the question, for it is man who is being required to justify his inexplicable acts to woman.

THE PRICE OF DIAMONDS.

[Washington Post.]

Diamonds continue to soar higher in price, and this tendency doubtless will persist until the high mark—"the most the trade will stand"—has been reached. Last year the average price of diamonds in the rough rose from $7.18 to $8.69 per carat. The total output of the South African fields was $38,510,420 for the year, making $77,600,000 since diamond mining became an industry. Their original value was greatly enhanced by the cutting process and the profits of the middlemen, but statistics as to the price paid by the final purchaser are not available.

The new price level at the mines was owing, like previous advances, to restricted production. The diamond monopoly, probably the closest corporation in the world, controls the supply absolutely and fixes the price arbitrarily. If competition existed, there would be a slump in values, well calculated to put the sparklers on a basis within the reach of all. Working the mines to their full capacity soon would glut the market, for at present only a few of the most productive diggings are being worked.

As to Albert Beveridge, well Albert can go on singing hymns and orating about the invisible government. He will have little to do with the visible.

CLARENCE SMALLWOOD TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Charged with Stealing a Horse at Athens.

HELD FOR OFFICERS COMING FROM ATHENS

A. W. Hilker, of Morral, Asks the Local Police To Watch for Frank Green and Arrest Him on a Charge of Stealing Clothing. Some Police Court Items.

Officer Cusick arrested Clarence he was not seen until Thursday morning, and locked him in the city prison to be held for the authorities at Athens. September 25, Chief McDonough received a letter from the Athens police department requesting that Smallwood be arrested and held for the authorities at that place on a charge of stealing a horse valued at $175.

Smallwood, until that time, was engaged in gathering paper about the city. Since the receipt of the letter he was not seen until this morning. He has been engaged driving a team for Fred Turner, at Green Camp, and was taken off the wagon by the officer, Thursday. Smallwood denies any knowledge of the horse which he is accused of stealing. A telephone message from the Athens authorities requested that Smallwood be held and said that an officer would come from that place after him.

Lewis Guluska, the Slav, who was fined $25 and costs for an assault on Blas Poljarevic, endeavored to even matters for his arrest by filing an affidavit against Frank Iselman, another fellow countryman, Wednesday. Guluska accused Iselman with assaulting him by striking him with a lantern. Iselman was arrested, and on being arraigned before the mayor entered a plea of gullty to the charge. The mayor fined him $10 and costs and Iselman settled.

Iselman then filed an affidavit against his accuser, and charged him with a similar offense, claiming that Guluska struck the first blow. Guluska was arrested; Wednesday, for a second time and held until next morning when he was arraigned for hearing. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined five dollars and costs.

Douglas McClaskey, who resides at Owens, was the victim of a pair of pickpockets while boarding the eleven-o'clock interurban car to go home Thursday. As a result McClasky is mourning the loss of between $130 and $140 which he had in his wallet in his left trousers pocket.

As McClaskey attempted to board the car, he was crowded by two small men who held him at the door. One of the fellows turned to the other and asked him if he had secured the baggage and undoubtedly receiving a favorable sign the men left the car.

McClaskey did not discover his loss until the car reached Prospect street. He then left the car and went to police headquarters to report his loss.

Carl Barnett, of No. 585 Lee street, reported to the police, Wednesday night, that a fellow by the name of Martin had stolen a coat from him. The fellow accused of the theft is described as being about twenty-three years old and having light hair. He wore a blue serge suit and a red jersey.

L. H. DeLauder, of Davids street, reported to the police, Wednesday night, that his bicycle had been stolen from where he had placed it on Court street. DeLauder rescribed the wheel as having a blue frame and equipped with mud guards and a coaster brake.

A. W. Hilker, of Morral, telephoned to the local police, Wednesday evening, and asked them to be on the lookout for Frank Green, and arrest him to answer to a charge of stealing a suit of clothes and absconding with a check to the amount of $7.50. Green, who has been a member of a piking camp, was sent to Morral by Hilker to get the check cashed. On his failure to return, an investigation was started, and it developed that a suit of blue serge clothes had been taken from another camper. Green's description was furnished the local department.

BRIDE IS UNABLE TO REACH THE OFFICE

Judge Carries License Record Down Stairs.

Because the bride was unable to walk upstairs, Probate Judge W. S. Spencer brought his marriage license book down stairs to the office of Sheriff John G. Stark on the first floor of the courthouse Thursday afternoon, and issued a license to Mrs. Mary Leeper and Sherman Smith, a produce dealer.

Justice Charles W. Haberman was then notified and he married the couple in the presence of several in the sheriff's office.

The bride is the widow of John Leeper, who committed suicide a number of years ago. She was recently operated on in a Columbus hospital and was so weak she could scarcely stand while the ceremony was being pronounced. The groom recently obtained a divorce in the local courts.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their future home in Marion.

THE POLICE ARE CALLED TO THE HARRIS HOME

Elliott Swift Nimmo Tries To Kill People Thursday.

FIRES A REVOLVER AT MRS. JOHN HARRIS

Misses Woman and Leaves House. Shoots at Houses and Then Shoots a Colored Man Through the Left Arm—Police Search the City for the Fellow.

The police were called to the home of John Harris, on Cottage street, about noon Thursday, as a result of a shooting affray which occurred at 12 o'clock. Elliott Swift Nimmo, the user of the revolver, is being looked for by the police.

Nimmo, who boarded with the Harris family in Toledo less than a year ago, called at their home at, No. 13 Cottage street, shortly before 12 o'clock and entered the house without knocking. He has been infatuated with Ida Harris, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris, whom it is said he has been trying to induce to leave with him and go to Toledo. The mother of the girl has protested, and because of this Nimmo threatened to shoot her.

When Nimmo entered the house Mrs. Harris asked him why he had his hands in his pockets. He answered by pulling out a revolver and firing at her as she started to run out of sight of the weapon. Having left her baby in the room, the woman was frantic for fear something would happen to the child. She ran to the home of a neighbor screaming for help.

Shoots Colored Man.

Nimmo left the house as unconcerned as if nothing had happened and enroute up Cottage street fired at a couple of houses and at James Wolfe, a colored man, one of the three shots fired at the colored man striking him and piercing his right arm above the elbow. Officers Cusick and Thompson visited the scene soon after the shooting and were informed that Nimmo had started to walk down the Hocking Valley tracks towards the union station.

Nimmo is described as being well dressed and about twenty-seven years of age. He has been employed at the Erie roundhouse, and has been boarding at No. 509 Silver street. Nimmo's home is at No. 143 south Walnut street, Mansfield.

THANKSGIVING DAY IS TO BE NOVEMBER 2

President Taft Issues Annual Proclamation Thursday.

IS COMPLIMENTED ON HIS GOOD FIGHT

Mr. Taft Returns to Washington and Finds Much Correspondence Awaiting Him—Receives Offers for Employment After March 4 but He Declines with Thanks.

Washington, Nov. 7.—In accordance with the century-old custom President Taft today issued a proclamation designating Thursday, November 28 as Thanksgiving day. In the proclamation Mr. Taft called attention to the abundant crops, domestic peace and national prosperity. The proclamation was issued immediately upon the president's return from Cincinnati.

Upon arriving at the White House the president found awaiting him a large number of letters and telegrams, complimenting him upon the good fight he had waged and sympathizing with him in his defeat. In addition, there were at least a dozen communications from commercial establishments of several different kinds, offering him employment after March 4 and begging that they might have the honor of announcing him in connection with their firm.

The president, having answered the letters of sympathy, declined with thanks the offers of future employment, saying that he intended to practice law in Cincinnati.

Governor Hadley, of Missouri, who reached Washington on the same train with the president, called at the White House this afternoon in connection with the still-undecided question of the successor to James Sherman on the Republican ticket. Governor Hadley, who boarded the train at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania last night, was unaware that he was travelling with President Taft until he accidentally met him in the waiting station today.

When asked at noon whether he would accept the honorary position of running mate to Taft, Governor Hadley replied:

"I have not been asked yet."

It is not thought the Missourian would accept if asked to do so.

All the cabinet officers now in Washington also called on the president.

Recovery Expected.

Mrs. Frederick Haberman, of Delaware avenue, who was operated on at the Lakeside hospital, Cleveland, Tuesday, is getting along as well as can be expected and the family is encouraged as to her recovery. Mr. Haberman is with his wife.

Predatory wealth has a sorrow sound to the other fellows.

Division of Land in Montgomery Township Sought.

SHERIFF JOHN STARK IS A MORRAL VISITOR

Finds Burt Stevens Has No Property To Attach—Sixteen Divorce Suits Are Filed During the Month of October—Transcripts Are Filed in Court Friday.

A suit to partition about 119 acres in Montgomery township and eight lots in DeCliff, was begun in the court of common pleas, last Friday, by Ernest R. Webber guardian of William J. R. Hunter, who is insane, and as a brother of the late Henry J. Hunter is entitled, his guardian claims, to one-third of the property mentioned.

The petition for partition was filed through Attorney George E. Crane, of Kenton. It sets up the fact that William J. R. Hunter is insane, and that Ernest R. Webber is his guardian, naming as defendants Charles Hunter and Martha J. Hunter, his wife; Fannie Hildreth and William Hildreth, her husband.

The DeCliff lots are Nos. 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 91, 92 and 93.

The personal property of the decedent is declared to be sufficient to pay all the debts and claims against the estate. The decedent died intestate and unmarried.

Mr. Webber, as guardian, desires to have his ward's interest in the estate set off in severalty, and prays that partition may be made of the estate, which is estimated at $10,000.

Thursday, when Sheriff John G. Stark went to Morral to serve attachment papers in the suit of the A. W. Brickerhoff & Son, of Upper Sandusky, against Burt Stevens, he found that the defendant had no property to attach. The piano, which the Upper Sandusky dealers sought to atttach, was not in Stevens' possession.

Sixteen divorce cases were filed during October, seven granted and one dismissed. During October a year ago only three divorce cases were filed.

Transcripts have been filed in the court of common pleas in the cases of Henry Allen, who was held to the grand jury by Mayor Claude D. Walters for burglary and larceny; W. M. Spade, who was held to the grand jury by Mayor Walters on a charge of stealing a watch from D. G. Maloney, and Harry Lewis, held to the grand jury by Mayor Walters for burglary and larceny.

Friday afternoon, County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter and Sheriff John G. Stark drew from the jury-wheel thirty-six names comprising a special panel from which to select a jury to hear the evidence in the trial of William DeHaven, indicted for first degree murder in causing the death of Simeon Glathart, Claridon township farmer. The following names were drawn:

The $5,000 damage suit of Clarence Parr, by his next best friend, Samuel Parr, against the Erie railroad company, has been settled out of court. Young Parr lost an arm while in the employment of the railroad, as a result of his glove becoming caught on a drill which had been bored into a boiler, in which Parr was at work.

A motion to require the plaintiff to state which way the car was moving, and from which side the conductor had discharged his passengers, has been filed by the defendant in the $10,000 damage suit of Josephine Patterson, as administratrix of the estate of Marion C. Patterson, her husband, against Frank A. Huber. Patterson was struck and mortally wounded by Mr. Huber's automobile driven by his chauffeur, Frank Johnston, as Patterson alighted from a Center street car.

In the $10,000 damage suit of Sarah E. Schneider, as administratrix of the estate of Charles B. Schneider, against the Erie railroad company, the plaintiff has filed, through Attorney H. Edmund Hill, a reply to the defendant company's answer. She sets up a general denial. The plaintiff's husband was killed by a passenger train when crossing the tracks at the Greenwood street crossing on a motorcycle.

At the same time of filing her reply, the plaintiff also filed a motion to advance the cause on the court calendar. She says it is for damages for her sole benefit, and that she is dependent for her daily livlihood upon her daily labor.

Monday afternoon, Judge W. E. Scofield confirmed the sale in the partition suit of Harry D. Sult against Daniel Sult. He allowed counsel fees of $237 to Carhart & Warner. The estate consists of 43½ acres in Richland township, and was the estate of the late Catherine Sult.

The Olivers were married in Chicago, May 31, 1907, and have no children. October 28, 1912, it is averred, that the defendant deserted her and has refused to provide for her, although he has an "earning capacity of $80 a month."

Alleging three years' wilful absence, Lizzie May Haskell, through Attorney H. Edmund Hill, brought suit for a divorce from Clarence F. Hackell, Tuesday. The Haskell's were married in Elmira, New York, May 29, 1907, and have one daughter. The plaintiff asks a decree of divorce and custody of their child.

NEW FRONT TO FIGHT.

By William T. Ellis.

The International Sunday-School Lesson for November 10 Is, "World's Temperance Sunday." Hosea 7.

Once a year the nearly 30,000,000 members of the Sunday-schools give themselves to the study of the temperance question. That simple statement points the way to a profound and portentous truth concerning this world-wide reform. It means that the impressionable minds of youth are getting fixed ideas upon the use of intoxicants. The leaders of the churches, teachers and preachers, are themselves at this time making a fresh study of the question. The whole subject is brought into review at least once a year as a real concern of religion. Each person, from his own agle, is making out a case against the use of intoxicants. The aggregate influence of all this is stupendous, immeasuraeable, unthinkable.

This is a good time to get right down to bed rock on the whole subject. Instead of presenting unrelated incidents and interesting stories, and statistics that should stagger, it is better to deal with the fundamental question. Where does the world stand on the temperance question? What are Christian people going to do about it?

The Temperance Mistake.

Words of soberness are in order here, if ever. In the face of this prodigious human problem, sound thinking is demanded. No teacher of temperance should go faster or farther than any intellectually honest person can follow. All exaggeration and over-statement are to be avoided and decried. For, admittedly, the most serious defect of the temperance propaganda is its intemperance.

When an ardent advocate of temperance teaches a boy, as myriads have done that everybody who drinks comes to poverty; and that all successful men are sober men; and that the great men are all abstainers, that boy eventually learns—if he has any wit whatever, or any experience of the world—that these statements are simply not true. Therefore he throws over not merely the fallacious extremes of the temperance teaching he has received, but likely as not all the teaching, the sound with the unsound. It is perilous to tell children anything that the ripeness of maturer experience will not vindicate. No permanent good, and usually real harm, comes from any teaching which does not square with the truth.

If fanaticism is ever excuseable, let it be said in extenuation, this is the occasion. The extreme statements of the one-sidedness of many temperance advocates is scarcely to be wondered at, as they have looked upon this monster evil, whose insatiable maw is hourly demanding a fresh glut of young life. This is scarcely the time for cold calculation and nice deliberation. The intensity of the spirit of love for mankind is doubtless the explanation of most of the unrealities and ill-balanced teachings and artificial atmosphere which may be detected in a great deal of temperance propaganda. Still, the cause itself is so important, and the issues involved, so great, that they should command extraordinary self-restraint on the part of all advocates. All temperance teaching should be able to stand the tests of the tempests of time.

"Better Not."

Even when all possible admissions called for by scholarly fairness and magnanimity to this worst of foes have been granted, it can be shown that there are a score of varied reasons why boys and girls, men and women, would "better not" drink. The abstainer is on absolutely safe ground. In the case of youth, this is the only safe ground. The witness of every saloon-keeper and every man of the world now living can be secured to the fact that "where there's drink there's danger." Physiology, economic efficiency, social stability, altruistic effectiveness, and essential Christianity all argue for abstinence.

The old-fashioned and sensible method of pledge-signing, when pledges are deliberately and intelligently taken, is being revived by the Sunday-school leaders. This is to be commended. The temperance war is not to be won by grand campaigns; the issue will never be settled until it is settled by each individual for himself.

The Grafted Tree.

Another step is inevitable, and it is being taken. Negative teaching is not the best teaching. The social opportunities of drinking must be supplanted by other more wholesome forms of human fellowship. Life must have some expression.

There is a grafted pear tree in my yard which I have watched with great interest. It has shown a constant tendency to throw out shoots of its old life from every portion of the tree's trunk. These have to be eliminated, and the sap confined for expression to the new branches which make for finer fruit. The tree is like a human life; self-expression it must have if it is to live. The concern of the man responsible for it is to see that it expresses itself along the line of its highest opportunity and ability.

Mere argument against the use of intoxicants will never win the temperance war; there must be provision made for the fulfillment of the tendencies and tastes which alcohol represents. Primarily, these are purely social; and there is no greater problem confronting the church of today than that of providing unhampered and yet wholesome social relationships for the young people of our generation.

Beginning at Beginning.

Now, to come to the point of this whole temperance question: How may the reform hope to win? Let us look at it rationally and from the standpoint of those who believe in the feasibility and desirability of a world without intoxicating liquors. First of all, and manifestly, there must be a new mind in the youth of the world. Public opinion must be changed at its springs. New minds must precede new laws. Only a nation of abstaining individuals can make a total abstinence nation.

The homely phrase is worth repeating that "the first saloon for a man to close is that which does business between his own nose and chin." Without abating one jot or tittle of its restrictive or legislative work, the church must create in youth a sentiment in favor of temperance which the years can not change. To make a nation of nondrinkers we must begin at the bottom.

Temporary Expedients.

"Half a loaf is better than no bread." Not everybody believes that. Some good temperance folk are determined to starve to death, or else have a full course dinner. It seems more reasonable that while waiting for ideal temperance conditions we should accomplish whatever we can. Pending the winning of the war, let us accomplish as many minor victories as possible. The amelioration of evil conditions will probably have to precede their annihilation. Thus, by pure food laws the quality of the liquor sold to the poor may be rendered less injurious. Even the man who drinks has rights; and it is a part of sane temperance progress to see that he be not poisoned.

A whole scheme of regulation of the liquor traffic must antedate the removal of the traffic. The hours when saloons may be open; the sale of liquor to minors, to women and to intoxicated persons; the separation of the saloon from politics; and even minor details like the removal of the screens from the doors, all make for temperance progress, and should not be disdained by any who are enlisted in the big fight.

The Ultimate Goal.

The audacity of the total abstainers' program is not so staggering to a fair mind as it once was. This contemplates the absolute extinction of the liquor traffic. It hopes ultimately to remove this public enemy from society's midst. The Christian Endeavorers have raised the battle cry, "A saloonless nation by 1920."

Pending that "consummation devoutly to be wished for," the territory wherein liquor is sold may be restricted as rapidly as is consistent with honest and permanent progress. Local option, which has found such amazing favor throughout the United States, should be extended over as wide an area as local sentiment will support. To put on the statute books laws which can not be enforced is a mistake; it still further imperils the disregard for the enactments of the state which is one of the grave evils of our western life.

The fact may as well be faced first as last, that no reform can go ahead of the will of the public. Steady, intelligent pressure must be brought to bear upon the minds of men until all have come to substantial unity upon the subject, and the land shall be free of that blistering, blighting curse which has shorn strong men of their strength, has broken the hearts of women worse than widowed, and has nipped the flower of hope from the life of innocent little children.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY THE ASSOCIATION

Tribute Paid to Memory of Late P. O. Sharpless.

Marion Cemetery Association Holds a Meeting and Desires That Local Business Places Be Closed During the Hour of the Funeral.

Requesting that the business places of the city be closed during the funeral services of Peter Oliver Sharpless, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, as a mark of respect to the dead, the Marion Cemetery association held a called meeting at the Marion National bank, Monday evening, and adopted the following self-explanatory resolution:

"P. O. Sharpless, whose name and life are a part of the history of this city, died on the fourth day of November, 1912, aged seventy-eight years. Mr. Sharpless has been a member of this association since 1854, and a trustee thereof since 1865, and so served up to the time of his death. He was untiring in his interest and attention, and the people of this city and county are indebted to him for the best years of his life, unselfishly given, without compensation, and often at the expense of his private business, in making the Marion cemetery the most beautiful burial place in the state. He was an honest man, and kind and charitable, and in all respects stood in the front ranks of good citizenship.

"We deem it due as a mark of respect to him, that the business places of this city close during the funeral service, and so request.'

"S. E. DeWolfe, president.

"C. N. Phillips, secretary."

A movement has already been inaugurated to erect, through popular subscription, a monument in Marion cemetery to the memory of the man who had done more than any other to make this burial ground one of the most beautiful in Ohio.

ARE INVESTIGATING STORY OF WOMAN

Authorities Making an Inquiry as to Mrs. William F. Ruth.

Authorities are investigating the pathetic story of Mrs. William F. Ruth, twenty-one years old and a bride of little less than a year, to whom a daughter was born at the Marion county infirmary, Sunday. The young mother, formerly Miss Josephine Thompson, of North Dakota, is a Norwegian by birth, and lived with a stepmother when she met Ruth in North Dakota. She and her stepmother did not get along very well, according to the woman's story. When Ruth returned to his home in Marion he sent for her and she came here. They were married November 14, 1911. Later Ruth deserted her and left her penniless when she was soon to become a mother. Ruth came back to Marion and again wanted Mrs. Ruth to live with him and she refused, saying she preferred to live in the poorhouse than again live with him. Ruth's present location is unknown.

WILL VACATE ROOM IN THE COURTHOUSE

Board of Infirmary Directors Will Be Eliminated.

The Marion county board of elections may occupy the room, which the infirmary directors are now using. This room is located in the basement in the northwest corner of the courthouse, and it is declared to be an ideal place for the board of elections, which is now paying big rent for its quarters in the Marion National bank building.

SAMUEL JACKSON IS KILLED AT RICHWOOD

Is Struck by Erie Passenger Train, Monday afternoon.

HIGHLY-RESPECTED COLORED RESIDENT

Remains Are Discovered by a Couple of Boys and Are Removed from Track by Erie Operator—Victim Member of a Local Lodge and of Livingston Post, G. A. R.

Richwood, O., Nov. 5.—[Special.]—Samuel Jackson, a well known and highly-respected colored citizen of this place, was killed by Erie train, No. 15, Monday afternoon. The body was cut into three parts.

Jackson had gone to Marion on train No. 16, on business in connection with White City Lodge, No. 3733, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, and had returned home on train No. 15. After he left the train he spoke to a number of people at the depot and then started toward his home, walking down the track ahead of the train. The train stopped just after it had pulled out, and it is supposed that Jackson took this opportunity to attempt to cross the track. No one saw the accident and his remains were found about fifty feet from the depot about 7 o'clock by two boys, Willis Young and a companion, who stumbled over the body, while walking up the track.

The boys ran to the station and notified Charles Gilbert, the operator, who took a lantern and went to the scene where he found the mangled remains of the unfortunate man. Train, No. 4, which was over an hour late, was due and Gilbert flagged it until he could pick up the remains in order that they might not further be mangled. He then notified Dr. S. J. Bown, who held an inquest and pronounced death due to accident.

The remains were taken to the M. C. Long undertaking establishment where they were prepared for burial. The funeral will be held from the African Baptist church, Wednesday afternoon at 130 o'clock.

Jackson was about seventy years of age and had resided at Richwood for more than forty years. He followed the occupation of a gardner. He was a member of the colored Odd Fellow lodge of Marion and of Livingston Post, G. A. R., of Richwood. He is survived by a widow and two adopted daughters.

Four little children stood by and watched the frantic struggles of their mother. A posse, made up of citizens headed by the police, is now searching for the assailant.

Will Add a Story.

The workmen now have a part of the building up to the third story and the fourth story will soon be added. The contract for the additional story was signed last Saturday.

Talking about your landslides, nothing like the one which hit Marion county, Tuesday, was ever experienced in these parts. Nothing to compare with the infinite variety of views held by the voter could possibly have been expected by one who had devoted his life to politics. So far as the national and state tickets were concerned, Democracy had things all its own way, but the Republicans managed to show up with some fine races for county offices and landed four places.

Woodrow Wilson carried the county with a plurality of 787. That was high enough, but James M. Cox, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, went him better and carried old Marion county by a plurality of 1,096. Bryson receiving 3,062 and Garford, 923.

For state auditor, Donahey, Democrat, rolled up a plurality of 633 over the Republican candidate, Pullington, who received a vote of 3,136, while Charles L. Allen received a vote of 1,164.

In the race for congress in the Thirteenth district, John A. Key had things all his own way, carrying the district by something like 17,000. His vote in this county was 1,529 to 2,979 for McLaughlin and 616 for Sheidler, the Bull Moose nominee.

Very Easy Sailing.

The race for state senator was limited to R. H Finefrock, Democrat, and Frank E. Milligan, Bull Mooser. The latter received 988 votes, Finefrock's majority being 3,165. As the district is Democratic, Dr. Finefrock isn't worrying greatly today.

For representative, I. S. Guthery, Democrat, received 4,405 votes, while W. H. Helverstott, Republican, polled but 2,631, a majority over Helverstott of 774.

Receiving 4,292 votes for clerk of courts, Lewis W. Tron, Democrat, landed by 672 ballots over Carroll W. Daniels, Republican.

The first Republican on the ticket to land was J. J. Francis, "Peddler John," who defeated Cornelius Green, Democrat, by 1,911 votes. The swing of the fellows using the pencil, Tuesday, may be better realized when this Republican plurality is compared with the 3,621 Democratic plurality of Judge Scofield, for supreme court, over the Republican nominees, or, better still, with the vote received by Spencer for probate judge, 4,629, against 1,584 for James H. Eymon, a plurality of 3,045.

Spaulding a Winner.

Jay Spaulding followed the lead of Francis and beat Peters, Democrat, for auditor, 4,256 to 3,675.

Leeper, Democrat, 4,504; Raub, Democrat, 4,122; Thompson, Republican, 4,091; Merchant, Republican, 2,732; Messenger, Republican, 3,-209 and Hanley, Democrat, 3,163.

Robert S. Dombaugh had a walkaway in the race to succeed himself for treasurer, defeating Dr. J. G. Seiler, Republican, by 2,085. The race for recorder also went to Democracy, the Democratic nominee winning over Lewis D. Brady, of the G. O. P., by 883.

The last Republican to land was Pearl R. Mears, who defeated his Democratic opponent, George Dwyer, by 556. For prosecutor, Homer E. Johnson, landed over his Republican opponent, DeGolley, by 1,274; and Hinklin, the coroner, defeated Smith, Republican, by 329.

The vote for supreme judge, long term—that in which Marionites were especially interested—was: Wanamaker, 4,554; Newman, 1,937; Winch, 930; Allread, 803 For common pleas judge, Judge Babst received 3,320 votes; W. J. Jones, Republican, 2,490 votes, and Ben Meek, Independent, 1,013. Donnelly, for court of appeals carried the county over Schroth by 402.

Other Improvements.

The proposed improvements at the fairgrounds—an exhibition hall and a grandstand—are certain in the city, but the agriculturists would not stand for them. The hall and auditorium received 2,219 votes in the city to 1,876 against it, while 2,115 Marionites voted for the grandstand to 1,737 against it. When the returns were all in from the county, saving Big Island, which failed to report on the tax up to noon, the vote stood 3,085 for and 4,189 against the auditorium at hall and 2,859 for to 4,011 against the grandstand.

Utterance by Chief Justice.

The Ohio State Journal, in an editorial, Wednesday morning, entitled "Improving Court Procedure," says:

"The United States supreme court has adopted new rules, which simplify procedure and shorten litigation. It is the most important news of the day. It gives the high authority of the supreme court of the United States to the fact that court procedure is too complex, tedious, expensive and should be radically reformed. The present procedure has prevailed with very little variation since the landing of the Pilgrims. Everything else has progressed except court procedure. If anything, that has grown worse. Everybody recognizes this fact, and now the supreme court has taken steps to improve the situation, and it is hoped that every state will follow suit. The new rules are simply to open the road to travel. It proposes to tear down some barricades that have been erected solely for delay and to increase costs and fees. Litigation can not be an instrumentality for good if it costs so much, and it is delay that makes the cost. There is injustice in every delay. It is going on now—rampant in some courts. There are big criminal cases that have been in the courts for over a year, and they are still there. Shame, shame."

The attention of the Hon. William Z. Davis, the new Ohio member of the supreme court of Ohio, having been called by the Star to this editorial, he said:

"This writer seems to be at the point of exploding with the usual amount of newspaper misinformation in regard to courts and court procedure. The reforms contemplated by the supreme court of the United States were made in Ohio more than sixty years ago by the adoption of the code of civil procedure. Probably not five per cent. of the present-day lawyers in this state have any personal recollection of procedure under the old common law and chancery rules.

"The Journal editor also seems to think that when a man is charged with crime he must be presumed guilty; and that, to save time and money to the state, he should be railroaded into the penitentiary or to the electrocution chair. I am old-fashioned enough to believe that whenever laws are enacted or rules adopted in violation of human rights or common sense, they will sooner or later plague the inventor."

LAST EXAMINATION OF BOOKS OF THE CITY

Reports Are Received by City Auditor and Mayor.

A FEW THINGS DONE NOT WITHIN THE LAW

Nothing of Real Importance Is Developed—A Few Small Expenditures Made That Have No Legal Status—City May Recover Sums If It Likes.

City Auditor H. E. Mason and Mayor C. D. Walters are in receipt of reports from E. M. Fullington, auditor of state, relative to the last examination made of the books of the departments, by State Examiner John E. Diemer. According to the report of the examiner, the tax valuation of the city in 1911 was $21,064,990. The period covered by the inspection is from September 18, 1911, to June 8, 1912, inclusive.

According to the inspector, there is due the city various amounts from persons as follows:

Jacob Wolbert, $6.47; J. E Crow, twenty-five cents; P L. Follett, $1 75; J. N. Reed, seventeen cents; J. W. Ulsh, $11; H S. Kraner, $33 50; S. H. DeLong, $12.00; S. R. Rauhauser, for purchase of fireworks, $54.38. The amounts due from some of the above officials were the result of the Crosser act wherein ordinances increasing salaries and providing for small expenditures were put in effect previous to sixty days after the passage of the ordinances The examiner held that the amount due from S. R. Rauhauser was illegal for the reason that there is no warrant in law where such an expenditure can be made from public funds.

What Records Show.

The records show that at the close of business, June 8, 1912, there was deposited the various amounts in the city's banks as follows:

Marion County bank, 12,700; Marion National bank, $18,270.14; Marion Savings bank, $12,700; City National bank, $11,515 90; Fahey Banking company, $12,700, making a total deposit of $67,952.53, with $66.49 undeposited. Of this amount $51,054 39 was in the general city fund and $16,898.14 in the city school fund.

The report shows that during the period from September 18, 1911, to June 8, 1912, there was collected through the mayor's office the sum of $477.07 in city cases. In state cases there was assessed the sum of $5,380.15 of which the sum of $2,246.32 was collected. The collections from venders and pawnbrokers amounted to $223

Action of Council

The inspector holds that the action of council in making supplementary appropriations and transferring from one division to another between the regular appropriation periods, without reference to any contingent appropriations or to actual emergencies, is illegal. The department advised that reasonable appropriations should be made at the regular semi-annual appropriations. Reference was also made to the telephones of the councilman being illegal wherein the city had to pay for other phones

The inspector paid a high compliment to the city auditor and mayor for the manner and neatness in which their books had been kept. Relative to the amounts due from the various persons, he left this matter to the city officials to determine whether action should be taken to collect the same. He also complimented the auditor on various matters relative to his action of the duties in office, and in no way held him responsible for the overdrawn amounts.

TWO SLANDER SUITS ARE FILED IN COURT

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ash Are the Plaintiffs in Cases.

CLAIM DEFENDANTS DEFAME GOOD NAMES

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson DeLauder Are the Defendants—Mrs. Benjamin F. Treep Brings a Suit for a Divorce in Court of Common Pleas—Other Court Items.

Lawson DeLauder, a well-known contractor, and his wife, Andrewmenta DeLauder, were made defendants in two slander suits of $5,000 each in the court of common pleas, Wednesday, when Everett Ash and his wife, Alma Ash, charged the DeLauders with defaming their good name and reputation. The separate petitions were filed through DeGolley & DeGolley.

In his suit against DeLauder, Everett Ash alleges that the defendant accused him publicly of burning down a house owned by DeLauder. According to the defendant, DeLauder, in the presence of many people, said:

"You poverty-stricken devil, set my house on fire."

In her petition, Mrs. Ash claims that Mrs. DeLauder publicly said:

"You," meaning Alma Ash, "you did. You know you did. You were trying to hide the fire traps to keep the men from getting under the house."

By this it is claimed Mrs DeLauder ment that Alma Ash was guilty of incendiarism the same as her husband.

Charging desertion, Martha C. Treep, through Mouser & Moloney, brought an action for a divorce from Benjamin F. Treep in the court of common pleas, Wednesday. The Treeps were married in this city, October 20, 1908, and in August of the following year the wife says her husband deserted her.

The plaintiff asks that she be restored to her former name of Moore. She is the widow of the late Calvin L Moore and is the mother of two children by her former marriage.

Mrs. Adeline R. Houpt began a suit for divorce from William C Houpt in the court of common pleas late Wednesday. The couple was married in June, 1905, and the charges amount to noncompatibility of temper.

MARION TO APPEAR IN MOTION PICTURES

Some Interesting Pictures To Be Produced Here.

Marion is to appear in the movies.

W. D. Clark, proprietor of the Columbia theater, has arranged with the New York Motion Picture company to send a representative here and take pictures of scenes and people of interest

The series will include pictures of the interior and exterior of some of Marion's big industrial institutions, showing them as the workmen are pouring out to go to luncheon. They will also include the King residence and other fine residences, business blocks, and street scenes.

The new motor apparatus of the Marion fire department will be shown to great advantage in a picture of the burning of the Grand opera-house. The picture of the "fire" will be reproduced as near the original as possible, with all the moving-picture fire trappings, and Chief Thomas J. McFarland throwing the water with his new fire-fighting apparatus

The eye of the moving-picture camera will catch and reproduce the height of the streams thrown, and the question will be determined whether the new fire-fighting apparatus is adequate in the event of another fire similar to that which destroyed the opera-house.

These Marion pictures, Mr. Clark announces, will be preserved and used in the future at any time when Marion is entertaining any number of strangers within her gates.

The moving-picture machine man will be here next week, when all of the pictures will be taken, provided the weather is fair.
